

In 2011, Mathematicians agree with the following simple definition of Mathematics: The Science of Patterns (patterns that occur in nature, patterns invented by the human mind, and even patterns created by other patterns)

